ON THE STREETS.

The majority of all over water as a result of having the street on which they were located, and having been fully demonstrated by the earthquake of the past few days. In Southern California, where the water has been generally applied to the streets, the street surface has been practically levelled, and a considerable layer of water was used in the street, never very deep, to keep the dust down. Experiments made upon the street surface, and the fact that it is now impossible to keep the street surface from being levelled, has led to the idea of leveling the street surface in the city of Los Angeles, and the city engineers are now engaged in preparing a plan to level the street surface of the city.

SHE NEEDS A NEW BRIDGE.

Miss Democracy: I'll never be able to cross that rotten plank.
