TIME/DATE

1600hrs /7-21-79 Responded to a call at Pay-N-Save regarding a hostile adult that was being detained for shoplifting.

1605hrs /7-21-79 Arrived at Pay-N-Save and contacted Stilwell, Ronald who said that they had to tie the suspect up in the rear office as he kept trying to escape. This officer together with officer Guichard #661, responded to the rear warehouse area and observed that the suspect had been bound by his hands and feet to a chain with a rope. Stilwell went on to relate the following:

Approximately 1446hrs /7-21-79 Stilwell was working in the nursery department on the south side of the store when he observed a white male subject, later identified as Deangelo, Joseph near the fence area on the south side of the nursery yard. Stilwell said that they have had a lot of loss by individuals passing merchandise through the fence and then going out and getting it later.

Stilwell went into the store and watched Deangelo through a window so that he wouldn't be seen. Deangelo kept watching the clerks and hanging around the fenced area looking at plants.

Deangelo then left the nursery area and entered the main store. Stilwell went outside the nursery and checked the exterior fenced area for possible merchandise that might have been left there by Deangelo; however, found nothing.

Stilwell then went into the main store and observed Deangelo in the automotive section. Deangelo was then observed to pick up a car cool cushion and carry it around the store. Stilwell said that Deangelo would walk up and down the aisle, stopping at the end of each aisle, looking behind him as if to see if he was being followed.

Deangelo then went to a display containing hammers and took three hammers from the display. He laid two of the hammers down on the counter and then placed the third hammer behind the cool cushion he was carrying.

Deangelo then went into an aisle where he was partially obscured from Stillwell's view. At this time Stillwell advised another employee, Gardner, Jeffrey of the circumstances and asked his assistance in watching Deangelo.

Stillwell then observed Deangelo to place the car cushion down in the aisle and walk off; however, the Harmer could no longer be seen.

Deangelo then went back out to the nursery area and began looking at plants. Stillwell went to the register in the nursery and continued to watch Deangelo. Deangelo then put the plants down that he was looking at and began to leave the store, exiting the nursery area. Stillwell stopped him and asked if he had gotten everything that he needed. Deangelo said, oh yeah, I need that big planter pot way over there and asked Stillwell to go get it. Stillwell sent someone else after it and Deangelo then went back into the main store stating he was looking for his wife. Stillwell felt that Deangelo was trying to get far enough ahead of him so that he could get hid of the Harmer. Stillwell could see a bulge in Deangelo's pants and something bouncing around in his shirt. Deangelo then walked all over the store supposedly looking for his wife and began getting upset. Deangelo then walked to the paint department and removed a can of paint of the shelf with his right hand and at the same time removed a can from under his shirt in the back with his left hand and placed the previously concealed can onto the shelf in its place.

Stillwell observed that the can he took out of his clothing was a can of dog repellent from another area in the store.

Stillwell, assisted by Gardner then asked Deangelo to come with them to the back office to discuss the can of dog repellent that Deangelo had removed from his clothing. Stillwell believed that the Harmer was still concealed in Deangelo's shirt and pants as he had bumped against him and felt it.

TIME DATE

Deangelo said that he didn't steal anything and that he wasn't going to go to the back office, and proceeded away again supposedly looking for his wife.

Stillwell and Gardner again stopped him and asked him to come with them to the back office however, he again refused. Stillwell and Gardner then took him by the arm in an attempt to have Deangelo come with them but he started pushing them. He then had to be physically carried to the back office, all the while fighting Stillwell and Gardner. When they got to the office Deangelo was screaming that they were treating him like an animal and then faked a supposed heart attack, at which point they let go of him. Deangelo then bolted for the door and had to be subdued again. While fighting with Deangelo on the floor Gardner removed the hammer from Deangelo's pants. Stillwell and Gardner then tied Deangelo up with rope pending the arrival of the Sheriff's Department.

Contacted employee Gardner, Jeffrey Paul, who said that his date of birth was 0-1-56 and that he was a retail clerk for the store. Gardner related the same information that Stillwell had previously given only adding that he had seen the bulge of some object in the rear of Deangelo's jacket prior to Deangelo taking it out and trying to place it on the shelf.

Employee Charles Garrett also observed the altercation in the back room with Deangelo.

Merchandise recovered and retained by Pay-N-Save

- 1.) One Hammer, Stanley brand $ 14.99
 - 2.) One can of Chaco Dog repellent 3.29
- Total $ 18.28

Out of context when Deangelo was struggling with the employees on the floor of the office he stated that he was a police officer; however, had no identification upon his person.

1 Upon talking to Deangelo and asking for identification he said that he had none and gave
2 his name as Deangelo, Joseph James, dob 11-8-45. Further questioning as to his identify
3 revealed no information, Deangelo just kept yelling that he had hit his head and that he
4 was in pain and was going to vomit. A hand cuff key was observed on Deangelo's key ring
5 and when asked about it by officer Guichard he said that he used to be with Roseville
6 Police Department and then kept talking in circles, making no sense.

7 Upon checking Deangelo's head for the supposid injury none was found but he continued to 8 roll around in the chair and speak in statements that made no sense.

9 At that point it was officer's opinion that he was mentally imbalanced and asked him if 10 he had ever been under psychiatric care to which he stated he had not.

11 Deangelo then said that he wanted to talk to officers alone. Store employae's were then 12 asked to leave the room. This officer informed Deangelo that he was under arrest for 13 petty theft and advised him of his rights per Miranda. Deangelo said he understood his 14 rights and went on to make a statement that made very little sense. Basically he 15 just said the same things that he had been screaming all along. That he waent a thief
16 and that he didn't steal anything. He said he knew nothing about the can of dog repellent
17 and that he was just carrying the hammer around.

18 Deangelo then asked to be released from his tied position to go to the bathroom as he had 19 been unable to control his bowls. He was escorted to the bathroom while a record check
20 was being run through Sacto, Roseville and Auburn. Deangelo had given an Auburn address.

21 The record check indicated that Deangelo, Joseph James was employed as a police officer
22 with the Auburn Police Department and that he had no record. To confirm that he was 23 actually Deangelo he was asked his unit call number when he was working and he responded
24 with the correct number 13Adam.

25 Deangelo said that he has been employed as an officer for four years and was just acting
26 crazy because he was afraid we would call right up to Auburn and tell them what had 27 happened. He then calmed down and no longer complained of any injuries stemming from the 28 physical altercation.

3
4 When I explained that he was going to be cited into court for the offense he said that
5 he knew all about citations and signed the promise to appear.
6
7 Deangelo said that his relatives were waiting for him in the parking lot and was released
8 on citation #65175 as per section 853.6 P. C. He then calmly left the store.
