Ceremony pays tribute to the Stars and Stripes

BY SARA CARDINE

Id Glory — in all its glory — took center stage Wednesday at Irvine's William R. Mason Regional Park, where citizens joined with elected officials, veterans and first responders to recognize Flag Day and the U.S. Army's 248th birthday.

Attendees were seeing stars as speakers shared the history and traditions of Flag Day, an observance intended to honor the first adoption of a national flag by the Second Continental Congress on June 14, 1777.

Although Woodrow Wilson issued a presidential proclamation in 1916 that set aside that same day each year as a time to honor the flag, it wasn't until Congress finalized the observance under Harry Truman in 1949 that the national holiday was born.

A field of flags provided a visual reminder of the long history of the U.S. Army, initially formed as the Continental Army in 1775 began hosting the Flag Day commemoration ceremony last year, said she hoped the display inspired feelings of patriotism.

"It's important for members of our community and for future generations to know our American cultural experience and the history of America," she said.

Remarks were provided by Army veterans state Sen. Josh Newman (D-Fullerton) and Juan Garcia, a peer support coordinator for U.S. VETS, a service organization that assists homeless and at-risk veterans.

Orange County Sheriff's Department and Irvine Police Department explorers demonstrated the proper folding of the national standard.

The American flag is not just a flag — several rules surround its display and disposal. If the banner is flown overnight, it must be illuminated. If faded or tattered, it may be handed over to a local fire department or veterans organizations for retirement.

If displayed alongside other flags, it should be positioned to

Mr. Irrelevant plans to 'keep pushing forward'

BY ANDREW TURNER

The story of the underdog has been told time and again, and it never seems to get old.

Certainly not in Newport Beach, where organizers are gearing up for another round of Irrelevant Week activities that are just around the corner.

City.

Having appeared before the community already at the Balboa Island Parade on June 4, the real fun reaches its pinnacle on Monday, June 26, when Johnson is set to appear at the Lowsman Banquet at the Cannery Restaurant

Melanie Salata-Fitch, the chief executive of Irrelevant Week, said the banquet is already sold out.

"We are looking forward to Irrelevant Week this year because it makes everything worthwhile when Mr. Irrelevant is a nice guy and an appreciative guy, because then all our work to celebrate him, it makes it worth it," said Salata-Fitch, recounting her first impression of Johnson. "We were able to see him for a short time during the parade. Actually, the day that he arrived at Rams camp, I drove out to the valley and introduced myself to him, and both times, he's a very friendly, nice, appreciative young man."

other wild requests as part of the festivities. Johnson voiced no such wishes, although he is looking forward to attending Disneyland with family members the Friday preceding the banquet.

Many a Mr. Irrelevant have put themselves at the mercy of the judges during the annual surfing lesson, a staple of the Newport Beach welcome. Reminded of a now viral video that surfaced of DJ Khaled wiping out while attempting to hydrofoil surf, Johnson hopes he can do better.

"He couldn't stand up on it," Johnson chuckled. He will get his chance on Saturday, June 24 at 30th Street Beach at 9 a.m.

Hearing his name called in the draft was far from irrelevant for Johnson, who cited the Rams trading for the last selection as being particularly meaningful to him. Los Angeles traded back seven spots with the Houston

Suspects charged in clinic bombing

Reward offered in the March 2022 Molotov cocktail attack on Planned Parenthood healthcare facility leads to arrests.

BY CITY NEWS SERVICE

Two Orange County men — including a U.S. Marine stationed at Camp Pendleton — were arrested Wednesday morning on federal charges of firebombing a Planned Parenthood clinic in Costa Mesa last year.

Agents with the FBI and the Naval Criminal Investigative Service arrested Tibet Ergul, 21, of Irvine, and Chance Brannon, 23, of San Juan Capistrano, who is an active-duty Marine.

The two were expected to make their initial appearance in federal court in Santa Ana on Wednesday afternoon.

They are accused of hurling a Molotov cocktail at the entrance of the Planned Parenthood at 1520 Nutmeg Place in the early hours of March 13, 2022, according to an affidavit from FBI Special Agent Jennifer Hirsch. About two hours later, the two returned to the clinic, she added.

The clinic "was forced to close and cancel dozens of appointments," Hirsch said. Clinic employees told investigators about 30 appointments had to be rescheduled.

A day after the attack, Ergul "texted an acquaintance, taking credit for the fire and noting that he wished he 'could've recorded the combustion," Hirsch said.

Ergul sent a photograph to an "acquaintance" showing "his gloved hand holding the Molotov cocktail from inside Brannon's car," Hirsch said.

Surveillance video from the clinic shows the two approach the building about 12:55 a.m., Hirsch said. They wore hooded sweatshirts and masks, Hirsch said.

BY ERIC LICAS

People living near Edison High School found fliers demonizing both the LGBTQ+ and Jewish communities Wednesday, the morning after controversy surrounding a student-produced video promoting Pride month stirred debate at a school board meeting.

The fliers feature a pentagram, star of David and the words "The LGBTQ+ movement is Jewish" in rainbow-colored font. Residents in the area of Hamilton Avenue and Bushard Court found them in plastic bags weighted with rocks to keep them from blowing away in the wind and started bringing copies of the apparent hate speech to patrol officers Wednesday morning, Huntington Beach police spokeswoman Jessica Cuchilla said.

"I want to be abundantly clear, the messaging contained within these fliers is completely unacceptable and does not reflect the values or ideas we believe here in Huntington Beach," Mayor Tony Strickland wrote in a statement Wednesday. "Hateful rhetoric or prejudice of any kind is inexcusable and we have zero tolerance for it within our community."

Investigators were working to determine the source of the fliers. Their distribution was limited to a small, "isolated" area, Strickland said. The neighborhood the anti-

USROWING YOUTH NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

A record-setting trip for Newport Aquatic Center

BY MATT SZABO

They came, they saw and they made history.

Eleven graduating senior girl rowers of the Newport Aquatic Center program certainly went out strong last weekend at the USRowing Youth National Championships in Sarasota, Fla.

The women's varsity eight finished in third place Sunday, medaling for the first time in program history after crossing the line in 6 minutes, 31.55 seconds, about three seconds behind champion Marina. The NAC boat included coxswain Hannah Hykes and stroke seat Millie Clark, Corona del Mar High graduates. Newport Harbor graduate Vivi Spitz was the other local senior in the boat, which also included Lauren Brown of Canyon and Huntington High Beach High juniors Sydney Harris, Charlotte Dozier and Julia Channel.

Olivia Aceves of Los Alamitos High and Chloe Sorensen of San Juan Hills High, also both juniors, made up the rest of the winning octet.

"I think we were all su-per-excited," said Hykes, bound for the University of Michigan, in a phone interview. "That was our goal going into nationals, to get a medal. The NAC women had never done that before, so it was really cool getting to see all of our hard work this season pay off. It was definitely years in the mak-

'Throughout my high school career, we were really building momentum. It was really cool to see the program improve consistently. I went from getting ninth place at nationals in this event my sophomore year, to getting third in this event."

NAC's JV eight women's boat, undefeated throughout the season, also medaled for the first time in program history after placing second in 6:43.14. Senior leaders for that boat included CdM graduates Kat Odeen and Ruby Srinivasan, and Newport Harbor alumna Michaela Banta.

varsity eight boat was the fastest "3V" in the country after finishing in 7:02.00.

'To have success across all the boats that we brought was really a great thing to be a part of it, getting to see the program as a whole see so much success after the season," Hykes

Newport Aquatic Center's men's varsity eight boat also placed third in the country, in 5:53.55. The eight included Travis O'Neil, Kian Aminian, Auggie Laster, Cooper Sitzman, Evan Guild, Brennan Duntley, Nick Gonzalez, Charlie Talley and coxswain Eva Hauge.

"The men's youth eights field has gotten deeper and faster than last year," NAC men's coach Nick D'Antoni said in a text message. "The defending national champs from Greenwich [Conn.] didn't even make the final, and neither did last year's other medalists and fourth place crew. We were the only crew to repeat as medalists from last year's final and we overcome an earlyseason loss of 11 seconds to the team from Marina, beating them out for a medal by 1.5 seconds.

"It was a great season of building speed, trying new things and looking for new ways to improve. Very proud of how far all the boys came and how determined they remained throughout the entire sea-

O'Neil and Aminian also won gold in the youth pair competition, finishing in 6:52.69, about six seconds better than the secondplace tandem.

It's the eighth national title for the NAC men's team and first in the pairs competition, D'Antoni said.

If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 683-2468 or visit this Internet Web site www.servicelinkasap.com, using the file number assigned to this case C.377-550. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. For sales conducted after January 1, 2021: NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (800) 683-2468, or visit this internet website www.servicelinkasap.com, using the file number assigned to this case C.377-550 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase Texans in the fifth round (from 167th to 174th), adding the Mr. Irrelevant pick in the deal.

The Mr. Irrelevant family added to its notoriety last year, as quarterback Brock Purdy stepped in for the injury-plagued San Francisco 49ers, leading them to the NFC Championship Game as a rookie.

Johnson, who reportedly signed a rookie contract with the Rams on Monday, per his agent David Canter, said Purdy reached out after his selection.

"Just keep pushing forward, pushing for better days, and pushing to be the best person that I can be on and off the field," Johnson said of the advice he received from Purdy.

The 6-foot-3, 275-pound Johnson totaled 65 tackles, 5½ sacks and one interception for Toledo last season. The Rockets beat Ohio 17-7 in the Mid-American Conference championship game at Ford Field in Johnson's hometown of Detroit. Toledo also beat Liberty 21-19 in the Boca Raton Bowl, which marked the program's first victory in a bowl game since 2015.

'That was one of the things that I give myself a pat on the back for because the [transfer] portal, around that time, everybody was in there," Johnson said of his decision to stay at Toledo. ... Just to be a part of that history will always be in my heart. Then I come to a championship team, that won the Super Bowl before and they know what they doing.
"I feel like everything's the right move. ... The guys, it feels just like at home, me and the guys joke around. I don't feel like I'm out of place or anything. It's more of a brotherhood because outside the facility, I can talk to anybody about certain things."

building cost about $1,050 to fix, Hirsch said.

In January, the FBI offered a reward of up to $25,000 for information leading to an arrest of suspects, prompting a call from a witness who called the FBI in April, Hirsch said.

The witness, who was friends with the suspects in high school, said Ergul sent text messages admitting his involvement in the bombing, Hirsch alleged. According to Hirsch, the text message read, "Boom (fire emoji)" at "1500 Blk nutmeg plaza... Costa Mesa health center/Planned Parenthood clinic."

The FBI agent also said that Ergul was arrested Oct. 21, 2022, in Tempe, Ariz., on suspicion of aggravated asunlawful imprisonment and criminal damage after "punching his roommate in the nose and breaking the doorknob so she could not leave their shared apartment.'

U.S. Atty. Martin Estrada called the alleged firebombing a "brazen attack" on a clinic that "provides critical healthcare services to thousands of people in Orange County. While it is fortunate that no one was physically harmed and responders were able to prevent the clinic from being destroyed, the defendants' violent actions are entirely unacceptable."

semitic and anti-LGBTQ+ fliers were found in is about a mile away from Edison High School. The campus recently drew the attention of conservative media outlets critical of a brief video discussing the celebration of Pride month that was played to some students last week.

The video is an episode of a student-produced show called Bolt TV. Some students complained when the topic turned to Pride month, and their teacher responded by admonishing them in a video that has since gone viral. Huntington Beach Mayor Pro Tem Gracey Van Der Mark noted during public comments at a Huntington Beach Union High School District school board meeting Tuesday.

"Rather than listen to his students, the teacher threatened them with supervision and to give them detention the following year," Van Der Mark said. "At no time was the teacher concerned with the students' visceral reaction as they watched video clips of couples in intimate positions and poses. In my opinion, it was not the students being inappropriate."

Van Der Mark was one of four members of the Huntington Beach City Council who voted to stop flying the Pride flag and other nongovernmental symbols from city buildings.

At least one parent who spoke at the meeting described the video as "indoctrination," eliciting cheers from some in the crowd. He went on to accuse "activist teachers" of attempting to push values onto his children.

Edison student Chris Kluwe noted that the video was made "by students and for students as a regular occurrence at Edison High School." He described it as an effort to shine a light on members of the student body who often get pushed to the margins.

"This isn't some state mandate trying to turn your kids gay," Kluwe said during public comments Tuesday. 'This is students recognizing who they are, recognizing their peers."
