H.B. touts growth, examines headwinds at tourism summit

Huntington Beach remains a big part of the state's tourism industry. Visit Huntington Beach hosted its biannual tourism summit on May 8 at another hotel across from the ocean, the Hyatt Regency Huntington Beach Resort and Spa.

"Huntington Beach does such a great job," said Caroline Beteta, Visit California's president and chief executive. "I can't emphasize enough how important it is for Huntington Beach to be fully funded, to take advantage of the platform that we present to the Man convicted of fatal DUI that killed boy

BY PAUL ANDERSON

A 64-year-old man was convicted Thursday of a drug-fueled collision that killed a 12-year-old boy crossing a Costa Mesa street on his bike.

Richard David Lavalle of Long Beach was convicted of seconddegree murder in the Dec. 6, 2020 fatal collision with Noel Bascon at Junipero and Arlington drives. Senior Deputy Dist. Atty. Casey Cunningham told jurors in closing arguments that Lavalle failed a field sobriety test, showing them how he was unable to stand on one leg.

"He almost fell," Cunningham said. "He is stumbling around."

Police also saw he had "red eyes" and "blisters on the tongue," which indicated drug usage and impairment to drive, Cunningham argued, adding that investigators initially thought he was high on marijuana but found that he had actually taken methamphetamine.

"He chose to consume methamphetamine prior to getting behind the wheel," Cunningham said. "He well knew his act was dangerous to human life."

Cunningham also pointed to the testimony of the boy's father, Glen Bascon, who saw his son get run over.

Bascon testified that he and his son went out for a bike ride about 5 p.m. that day but he soon realized it was getting too dark, so he decided to return home.

Bascon said he was nearly across the street in the crosswalk when he saw Lavalle's truck "coming fast."

Costa Mesa mulls a balanced budget

The Costa Mesa Council considered a $186.9 million general fund budget for the year ahead.

BY SARA CARDINE

Costa Mesa officials this week considered the city's financial future, reviewing a 2025-26 budget proposal that appears to be fully balanced but which assumes a nearly $7 million mandated earmark for capital projects would go unfulfilled.

With the theme "Focused. Efficient. Resilient," the $224.4 million all-funds budget projects $186.9 in general fund revenue — a $3 million decrease from anticipated revenues forecast in the 2024-25 budget adopted last June — but still sets aside $101.7 million for public safety.

Finance officer Peter Diminich said in a study session Tuesday trends and forces in the national economy, particularly a series of proposed international tariffs, are creating a cloud of uncertainty among consumers that could play out locally in the months and year ahead.

"It's negatively impacting the soft data, and soft data are things like consumer confidence and things with opinions and survey-based data. In the near term, we're seeing a negative bias there," Diminich told the council members, indicating confidence levels were as low as they were during the COVID pandemic.

Locally, Costa Mesa is projected to take in about $75.1 million in sales tax, $6.4 million lower than this year's budget, and an estimated $63 million in property taxes, an increase of 4%.

Revenue from collected fees and charges should bring in $13.2 million, while the city is anticipat-

Virginia Way underground utility district formed in South Laguna

BY ANDREW TURNER

The Laguna Beach City Council this month gave the go ahead for the formation of a new utility undergrounding project, this time along a key stretch of roadway in South Laguna.

The project will remove six utility poles and associated overhead wires along Virginia Way between 3rd Avenue and 5th Avenue, which city officials identified as a key evacuation route.

Just over an hour after it was presented with a comprehensive update on the current and future plans for wildfire mitigation and fire safety on May 6, the City Council adopted a resolution to establish the district.

The project will qualify for credits under the California Public Utilities Commission Rule 20A program, according to a city staff report. The CPUC states such work must be in the public interest and may eliminate a heavy concentration of overhead lines, involve a street with a high volume of traffic, or benefit a civic or public recreation area or area of unusual scenic interest.

Pierre Sawaya, the city's capital program manager, said the Rule 20A program has been proposed to sunset, although the city had a balance of $857,979 in program credits from San Diego Gas & Electric.

"While the city had previously accrued credits on an annual basis, from SDG&E in this case, there are no additional credit accruals moving forward for such projects," Sawaya added.

The program credits will fund land survey, design engineering

4 arrested on suspicion of murder related to H.B. death

BY SARA CARDINE

Huntington Beach police Thursday announced the arrest of four men on suspicion of murder in the death of a 29-year-old Anaheim man in September outside a restaurant in the city's downtown area.

Victim Rozzalle Lamont Hellens, of Anaheim, was found outdoors near Longboard Restaurant & Bar on Main Street at around 2 a.m. on Sept. 15. He had sustained significant injuries that resulted in his death, police reported.

The 200 block of Main Street was closed off for the next six hours as officers processed the crime scene. Detectives from HBPD's Major Crimes Unit led the investigation, but no information on the suspect or what may have led to the homicide was made available to the public in the days and weeks that fol-

But in a release Thursday, police indicated personnel from the department's investigations division, working with SWAT officers and members of a crisis negotiation team, had booked four Huntington Beach men.

Arnaldo Steven Malaca, 33; Michael Cardoso, 29; 25year-old Roberto Lopez and Iesus Torres-Martinez, 22 were identified as the suspects booked on suspicion of murder, conspiracy to commit murder and criminal street gang activity.

In addition to the three felony charges, Malaca was also booked for allegedly carrying a concealed firearm, although police did not clarify whether a gun was used in the homicide.

Thursday's release followed a public advisory notice issued Wednesday afternoon, informing residents about SWAT and detective activity occurring in an undisclosed location in Huntington Beach's Oak View neighborhood.

The activity, which HBPD Iessica spokeswoman Cuchilla confirmed Thursday took place in the vicinity of Beach Boulevard and Slater Avenue, pertained to "a prior investigation" and did not constitute a threat to public safety, according to the notice.

It is still unknown whether Hellens knew his alleged attackers, who are all due to be arraigned in Orange County Superior Court on Friday. All four suspects are being held on $1 million bail, HBPD re-

BY MATT SZABO

Jennifer Carey isn't necessarily leaving Huntington Beach, just moving down the street.

The city's deputy city manager is resigning from that post to accept a job as chief of staff for Republican state Sen. Tony Strickland, who represents District 36.

Carey said she did not know Strickland prior to his election to the Huntington Beach City Council in 2022, but that changed when he was mayor the following year.

"I had the opportunity to work very closely with him his first year here in Huntington Beach, and we built a really great relationship quickly," she said. "Because

BOYS' VOLLEYBALL

Sage Hill surges into second straight final

BY ANDREW TURNER

Sage Hill hadn't had a storied history in boys' volleyball when it swept in and claimed the program's first Southern Section championship last year.

It will have a chance to add to the trophy case this weekend, but it took a lot of improvement in the second half of the season and a bit of luck for the Lightning to get the opportunity to find out if they could indeed strike twice in the CIF fi-

Deep into the spring, Sage Hill was still trying to find itself, buried behind the eight-ball from a slow start that had as much to do with who wasn't on the floor as anything else.

Jackson Cryst, named the CIF Division 5 Player of the Year in the Newport Coastbased private school's run to the title last season, was a late arrival because of yet another deep postseason run — this time on the basketball court.

The basketball season carried into the first week of March, as the Lightning reached the Division 3AA section final with Cryst serving as their two-way difference-maker at center. Sage Hill lost the title game to Palmdale Knight, then made a first-round exit in the regional playoffs.

Even the return of Cryst, who had an eye-popping 54 kills against San Marino in the Division 5 championship game a year ago, didn't spell immediate success for the Lightning. A five-game losing streak to open the season had made it an uphill battle. Struggles within the Pacific Coast League only added to the Sage Hill's 11-11 record with a week remaining in the regular season had its playoff hopes teetering, the standard of a .500 record or better for at-large qualifier consideration very much in

All the Lightning have done since then is rattle off seven wins in a row, including a five-set win to kick it off versus Portola on April

Junior outside hitter Ryan Manesh described the agonizing moment of the team waiting on the release of the playoff brackets to find out if their season would continue.

"We knew that we had to [get] the wildcard," Manesh said. "I was actually on the CIF Southern Section Instagram page. I knew that the brackets would come out that day, so I was like refreshing, refreshing, and then I saw it popped up. ... I saw we were in the bracket, and as soon as I saw it, I sent it to the group chat, and then we all got super pumped."

The Lightning were "hungry to repeat" as CIF champions, Manesh said, and with a straight-sets win over visiting Crean Lutheran on May 10, Sage Hill earned a spot in the Division 4 final.

Sage Hill (18-11) will travel to Santa Barbara (20-10) for the championship game, which is scheduled for 1 p.m. on Saturday.

"There was an 'aha moment,' I think, really at that Portola game, where it's like, 'We're back.' We're still the same team that won CIF last year, but even better — different tools," Cryst said. "It just took time to find it, so it didn't feel like, 'Oh, we have to win this game, and this game, and this game.' Every game, we're finding something new. Every game, we're developing and becoming tighter knit as a team."

Cryst has committed to continue playing in college at Long Beach State, which beat UCLA to win the Division I national championship on Monday. The senior outside hitter said he watched Long Beach State take down Pepperdine to advance to the title game on Saturday, before stepping onto the court for the Lightning's semifinal against the Saints. He was taking notes.

"Something I've learned from [Long Beach State coach] Alan Knipe, he actually said it in his press conference before the semifinal, you don't want to peak at the beginning," Cryst said after the win over Crean Lutheran. "You want to be able to play your best volleyball at the end, and I think that's what we're doing. I think every game it's getting better. I think [the Saints] were pretty similar to [Simi Valley] Royal, who we just played on the road, except this time, we swept them instead of winning in five [sets], so I think we're on a really good trajectory."

Cryst provided 20 kills and three service aces in a 25-21, 26-24, 25-18 win over Crean Lutheran. Manesh tacked on 13 kills, including the match-clinching blast from the right pin.

Lightning have The found their form under the tutelage of first-year coach Jordan Hoppe, a Wisconsin transplant who competed locally at Concordia University in Irvine.

Hoppe also addressed the quarterfinals win at Royal, calling the feeling "amazing" to emerge victorious in the fifth set.

"Our hearts were racing," Hoppe commented. "You could tell it was very tangible in the gym, just being an away crowd. We just knew the stakes. Funny enough, Dylan Han, our right side [who] played libero last year, he steps up and makes two just absolutely icing-the-cake blocks. ... That's the stuff you hope for when you have a team, pen." Manesh shared his thoughts on where the Lightning have improved with Hoppe at the helm. "I think one thing that he's completely changed this year is our offense," Manesh said of Hoppe. "He's taught us to run quicker balls, and that faster offense has given us oneup [or] no-up blocks, and that's allowed us to play at a way higher level than we did last year."

Connor Gapp, a pin hitter during the title run last year, took on setting duties this season. The versatile junior contributed 23 assists, six kills and two block assists.

"I'm used to being on the right side, I play beach a lot, so my hands are good enough to set," Gapp said. "I decided to put my head down and learn how to set, so I could end up helping set this season. It's where I needed to be, so I could help our team the most. ... It's hard to adjust and learn a new position in such a short time. That's maybe why we were losing a lot of the games at the start. ... It ended up being fun."

Junior Jonathan Ye also distributed 15 assists to go with two aces, his contributions affording the Lightning the opportunity to keep Gapp available as a hitting option in a few rotations. Han had four kills and a solo block, Carson Ellis totaled 21/2 blocks, Justin Liu registered 11/2 blocks, and Ethan McNutt supplied a pair of aces.

"I didn't have a lot of time with the guys to really develop and form the culture that we're forming," Hoppe said. "Now that we kind of are going, it's going good, and it's just only getting better and better."

industry."

Visit HB's president and chief executive, Kelly Miller, said his organization has taken advantage of a raise in the Tourism Bid Improvement District rate from 4 to 6%, which went into effect last July. That means that Visit HB gets a 6% cut from local hotels to fund its efforts in marketing Surf City.

"They send the money in, the city collects it and it comes to us," Miller said.
"There are no local tax dollars that residents pay to fund tourism visitor marketing Huntington in Beach."

The words "cautiously optimistic" could describe the prospects for Huntington Beach and the state as a whole for 2025, though "headwinds" was another word often used at the tourism summit. International tourism is expected to suffer with the strength of the U.S. dollar, as well as tariff policies instituted by President Trump.

According to a Tourism Economics forecast released earlier this month, about 267.8 million people are expected to visit California this year, a drop of 0.7%. Beteta said her organization is looking at investing more in domestic travel as it prepares for its next board meeting on June 3.

She added that 83% of the state's visitor spending is domestic.

"I'm going to take that as good news, as we have to look at shifting and managing the global environment right now," Beteta said. "There's a lot of places, like Hawaii for example, that don't have the accessibility of the domestic market, much less an in-state market. With 40 million Californians, we can always turn to the backyard in times of crisis.'

Huntington Beach saw $580 million in visitor spending in 2024, a new record, per the Visit HB Vis-Économic Impact Overview. The city welcomed 2.34 million non-Orange County visitors, a 4.4% increase over the year before, and tourism accounts for nearly 10% of the city's total employment.

Tommy Martinez from Tripadvisor offered positive thinking for the future of Surf City during his talk about millennial and Gen Z travel trends.

The percentage of Gen Z and millennials surveyed who considered coastal beaches as an ideal vacation spot were 64% and 65% respectively, according to the Tripadvisor Travel through Life report for 2024. A sizable percentage of those generations surveved also considered mountain ranges and rural countrysides as interesting places to visit.

"It's completely different," Martinez said. "When I was in the Y2K era, it was all [Las] Vegas, all the time.'

Cindy Decker from Tourism Economics presented attendees with information on drivers and roadblocks for travel, while Miller also engaged in a sit-down discussion with U.S. men's volleyball national team coach Karch Kiraly. The event was attended by city leaders including Mayor Pat Burns and City Manager Travis Hopkins.

Miller and Kiraly discussed the news that Honda Center in Anaheim has been announced as the indoor volleyball venue for the 2028 Los Angeles Olympics. Miller noted that Huntington Beach, though not selected as an Olympic venue, is the closest beach to nearby Disneyland, at just more than 11 miles

He called the Tripadvisor survey numbers reassuring.

"The beach is a huge, huge destination driver, and we have that," Miller said. "We have a quarter of the beaches in Orange County.'

The summit concluded with Hayley Barg, culture and engagement manager at the Waterfront Beach Resort, a Hilton Hotel, receiving the Surf City USA Industry Leader Award for her contributions to the local tourism community.

ing $9.8 million from an 8% transient occupancy tax levied on hotel stays and $3.6 million from the 7% tax on retail cannabis sales.

The cannabis tax revenue will help raise $242,200 to fund the city's Arts and Culture Master Plan, the expenses of which this year are anticipated to be $416,990. Another $242,200 will be put toward a firsttime homebuyers program that will have amassed $628,912 by next July.

Meanwhile, among $186.9 million in expenditures 54% will go to public safety, with 33.6% going to Costa Mesa Police Department and 20.8% planned for the city's fire department.

A proposed all-funds capital improvement program budget of $16.7 million represents a decrease of $11.2 million, or 40%, from the adopted 2024-25 budget. Another $12 million in bond funding, separate from the general fund, is anticipated to be spent sometime later this year for the renovation of the city's Fire Station No. 2.

Other capital improvement projects anticipated in the year ahead include active transportation improvements on Adams Avenue, bicycle and pedestrian infrastructure upgrades, new security lighting in parks throughout the city and a pedestrian safety fes-

But the commitments fall short of the 5% of general fund revenue that is mandated to be earmarked for such projects under the city's Capital Asset Needs (CAN) ordinance, passed in 2015.

Molina on Tuesday recommended the city allocate $2.2 million in funds that have accumulated from prior payments into the capital improvement fund toward infrastructure projects, but indicated she will be recommending the city seek an exemption from the mandates of the CAN ordinance, which would require a nearly $7 million set-

"We are, at this moment in time, requesting to enact an emergency exception clause, due to the economic downturn, which would need the super-majority approval of the City Council," Molina said.

The council recently approved a similar exemption in the current fiscal year, using $2.9 million to close a budget gap and voting to replenish the CAN fund incrementally over the next five fiscal years. Should council members make a similar move in 2025-26, the city would be on the hook for nearly $10 million in repayment to the fund. Mayor John Stephens - who indicated he would have voted against the CAN ordinance if he'd been on the council in 2015 - said he believes the city should either adhere to the ordinance or consider amending it or repealing it altogether.

"We're going through an exercise, but it's not realistic. I'm dubious that we will be able to perform what we're putting out as a plan," he said. "If it is a law, I think we've got to follow it and be genuine about it."

Council and staff mulled other ways to increase the city's revenues, including potential fee increases at its Golf Course and Tennis Center, revising Costa Mesa's fee schedule and floating a ballot measure in 2026 to increase the transient occupancy tax.

They also considered ways to decrease expenditures by possibly cutting more vacant positions, reducing consultant contracts and revisiting multiple programs in the 2025-26 mid-year budget revision

"I really appreciate the thoughtful consideration given, given our economic downturn and a lot of uncertainty ahead," Councilwoman Arlis Reynolds told staff. "I also appreciate that the budget was developed to not use our [$60 million] reserves. We don't know what's ahead and I'd like to have a little bit of a buffer."

Robert B Smith August 12, 1945 - May 7, 2025

Robert was a devoted husband, father, grandfather, brother, and son, and a longtime resident of Newport Beach. Known to his friends as Bob, he influenced the lives of many through his work, friendship,

Born in Columbus, Ohio to Robert and Jennie Smith, he moved to Seal Beach with his family in 1957, and he attended Huntington Beach High School. He majored in public speaking and psychology at Cal State Long Beach where he was a member of Sigma Pi and was elected associated student body president in 1966. In college he met the love of his life, Carmen Bowman, and they married in 1967.

A life-long learner and teacher, he taught psychology at Orange Coast College from 1972 to 2004. In addition to education, Bob was actively involved in real estate development, serving as project manager for the Old Town Irvine restoration project and later as project manager of Discovery Science Center, Santa Ana.

Bob was extremely proud of his children and grandchildren and would spend as much time with them as possible. He enjoyed traveling and new experiences, and he cared deeply about improving people's lives. Most recently he started a men's group at the Oasis Center in Corona del Mar to discuss "man's third act," as he called it, about how to live well in old age. He also was a commissioner on the Newport Beach Arts Commission, and he helped obtain many sculptures for the sculpture garden at the Newport Beach city hall.

Bob's steady wisdom and warmth will be missed by all who knew him. He is survived by his wife, Carmen, their sons, Robert and Adam, three grandchildren, Ava, Olivia and Colin and two brothers, David and Dan.

Memorial services are pending and will be announced at a later date. In lieu of flowers, please send donations in Robert's name to the Newport Beach Arts Foundation.

If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (855) 313-3319 or visit this Internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 131533-

CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT:

Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-

3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 131533-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to and construction work tied to cabling and the removal of utility poles, according to a staff report. An SDG&E estimate for the work came in at $854,507.

"The impacted utilities are SDG&E, the electrical provider, Cox, Frontier, and also Crown Castle has a system running through Virginia Way in that area," Sawaya said. "The project would provide underground connections to private properties that are currently fed overhead from the system out there today, and that connection would be provided at no cost to the property owners, which is consistent with 20A projects."

At a glance, the city's preliminary cost for the project is approximately $1.28 million, although city staff said another estimate would be provided after construction drawings were submitted. Funding for the city's portion of the project would be set aside in the capital improvement program budget.

Staff projected the date of completion for the work to be August 2027. During the 27-month period, the steps will include design process, entitlements, the bidding for and completion of construction, and the removal of overhead facilities.

Resident Ann Christoph called on the council to close a two-block gap between 3rd Avenue and Eagle Rock Way along Virginia Way, noting the nearby West Street underground utility district.

'It is an evacuation route, . and it doesn't seem fruitful to leave that undone when you're going to be doing this portion," Christoph

Sawaya said that adding blocks to the project could be possible, but it would necessitate more funding. When asked for an estimate to add the other two blocks Councilman Whalen, Sawaya responded the city could be looking at "possibly another $2 million."

The council unanimously approved the engineer's report and the use of the Rule 20A credits, adding direction to staff to investigate possibilities to underground utility lines for the additional two blocks along Virginia Way to the north.

Shipp, making his third appearance at the CIF State Championship meet, earned his best finish. He was seventh last year as a junior and sixth as a sophomore.

The two-time CIF Southern Section champion said in a text message that his dives felt less consistent than they had been lately, but he couldn't complain about fourth place.

"As I close out my high school dive career I especially want to thank my coach, Curt Wilson, for his steadfast support," Shipp said. "I'm looking forward to seeing the next group of Laguna divers on the podium at CIF. Go Beach!" Ruffini earned her first medal at the state meet, as she finished 14th last year as a sophomore.

"It was a super fun meet with some good competition!" she said in a text message. "I've been pretty sick all week and haven't been able to practice at all, so I really surprised myself with my performance since I wasn't feeling my best. I'm hoping that next year I can come back in better health and hopefully take the title as state champ!"

Newport Harbor junior Violet Carone finished 11th at state finals in the girls' competition, while Edison sophomore Allison Mc-Nichols placed 18th.

In January 2022, she was promoted to public affairs manager, and served as acting deputy manager for six months last year before being named to the role in Janu-

Carey, 39, said her final day with the city will be Tuesday, and she will begin working for Strickland a week later. She will be based at his Huntington Beach district office.

"It was a difficult decision to leave, but I know that I made the right choice going with Senator Strickland's office," she said. "It isn't fully leaving Huntington Beach, it's being able to serve in a different capacity."

Strickland resigned from the City Council earlier this year and won a special election in District 36, which includes most of coastal Orange County as well as the Los Angeles County cities of Artesia, Cerritos and Hawaiian Gardens. He avoided a runoff election by receiving more than 50% of the votes in the primary elec-

Strickland said in a statement that he was happy to have Carey on board.

"We are lucky to have Jen join our team," he said. "She is extremely talented and will serve the people of Senate 36th District well. During my time on the City Council, Jen was a fantastic employee for the city of Huntington Beach, as I had the opportunity to experience firsthand her leadership when we worked together to improve the city."

Carey said Huntington Beach is in the process of onboarding a new city spokesperson in the coming weeks.

Ava Kim homered and drove in three runs, as Marina tallied a dozen hits en route to a 10-0 win over visiting Arcadia on Thursday in the first round of the CIF Southern Section Division 3 playoffs.

Liz Byer supplied three hits, two runs scored, and a run batted in. Gabby Di-Benedetto, Mia Valbuena and Byer each had a dou-

Byer, DiBenedetto and Valbuena each picked up multiple hits in the contest. The Vikings scored nine runs in the third inning, and the game was called after five innings with the mercy rule in effect.

Valbuena allowed just three batters to reach base safely (one hit) while recording 12 strikeouts in a complete game.

Marina (15-13) plays host to Sea View League champion San Clemente (21-7-1) on Saturday at 3:15 p.m.

Huntington Beach 8, Covina Charter Oak 7: Morgan Drotter and Tea Gutierrez homered for the visiting Oilers, who scored the first six runs of the game, then held on to win in the first round of the Division 1 playoffs on Thursday.

Maleah Humble, Zariah Billinger and Gutierrez each had three hits for Huntington Beach (22-7), which also got two-hit performances from Bree Carlson, Willow Kellen and Drotter.

Humble had a pair of stolen bases and scored twice. Gutierrez scored three times.

Huntington Beach plays host to Chino Hills (20-8) on Saturday at 11 a.m.

Both sides are co-league champions. The Oilers shared the Sunset League title with Los Alamitos, while the Huskies matched Etiwanda for the best record in the Baseline League.

Long Beach Poly 5, Edison 1: The visiting Chargers were held to six hits on Thursday in the first round of the Division 4 playoffs.

Aubrey Catron had two hits to lead Edison (11-15), while Kaila Arakaki and Savannah Fisher each drew a pair of walks.

Sophia Hannappel, Elina Garcia, Hannah Stolba and Fisher each had one hit.

Los Amigos 15, Capistrano Valley Christian 7: Alina Mendez had three hits, four runs batted in and two runs scored to lead the Lobos past the Eagles at home on Thursday in the opening round of the Division 7 bracket.

stop," the tearful Bascon

After he "heard a loud bang," he frantically looked around for Noel, but couldn't see him.

Lavalle got out of the truck and apparently "didn't realize what he hit. I said, 'What the heck did you do? Why didn't you stop?" Bascon testified.

He looked underneath the truck and saw the bike scrunched under it, but his son was not there. "The truck swallowed the bike," Bascon said.

Ultimately, he found his son and estimated that he may have been catapulted about 120 feet away.

Former Costa Mesa Police Department Officer Chasen Gaunt, who now works for the Manhattan Beach force, testified that he joined the nurse in attempts to revive the boy until paramedics arrived to take over.

When Bascon got to the hospital with his wife and daughter, they were told his son had died.

Cunningham said in court papers that investigators found drugs in Lavalle's pickup. A blood-draw that night found the defendant had 115 nanograms of methamphetamine in his system.

Lavalle was convicted in 2013 of driving under the influence in San Diego County, triggering an upgraded charge from manslaughter to murder.

Lavalle's attorney, Jennifer Ryan of the Orange County Public Defender's Office, said her client "felt awful" when the collision occurred. The defendant's wife, who was in the passenger's seat of the truck, told police the methamphetamine police found belonged to her, Ryan said.

Lavalle told officers that he had been working the whole day up on a ladder and had a bad back and hip to explain some of his difficulty standing on one leg and balancing as well as other field sobriety tests.

Another officer had the defendant do more field sobriety tests after he had been sitting "on a cold curb" for an hour, the defense attorney said, who maintained the child's death was an accident, not a murder.

Lavalle, who is scheduled to be sentenced June 27, was convicted in August 2009 of armed bank robbery in federal court and sentenced in April 2010 to 35 months in federal prison, according to court records. He was returned to prison for another year when he violated terms of his supervised release in 2013. He was also convicted of robbery in Los Angeles County in June 2018, court records show.

Sophia Gutierrez turned a two-hit afternoon into three runs scored and three runs batted in. Maria Castillo added four hits, scoring two runs and driving in a pair.

Andrea Contreras also drove in two runs for Los Amigos (16-6), which travels to take on Culver City (10-14) in the second round.

Leah Lemusu scored three runs, and Melenny Andrade scored twice.

Costa Mesa rallies past Kaiser in CIF opener

BY MATT SZABO

The Costa Mesa High baseball team has enjoyed historic levels of success this season.

Costa Mesa navigated a trip into a new league, and ended up as undefeated Golden West League champions. After winning the Orange Coast League last year, it's the first time the program has produced back-to-back league titles

The Mustangs also have a single-season record 23 wins, surpassing last year's mark by one.

"Most of these kids on this team have played with us for three or four years," said Coach Jim Kiefer, who has nine seniors on the squad. "It's a very experienced team now. So, to see them get to this point and this level, play as well as they have is very rewarding for all of our coaches and for them, too."

That success has led to a much higher playoff division for the CIF Southern Section playoffs under the new competitive equity model. Mesa jumped from Division 6 last year to Division 3 this year.

Any doubts were erased after a big sixth inning Thursday against visiting Fontana Kaiser.

"After today, I guess we can compete in D3," senior outfielder Aiden Comte said with a smile after the Mustangs rallied for a 5-3 win in their playoff opener at home. "It feels good to be at the top and be able to produce."

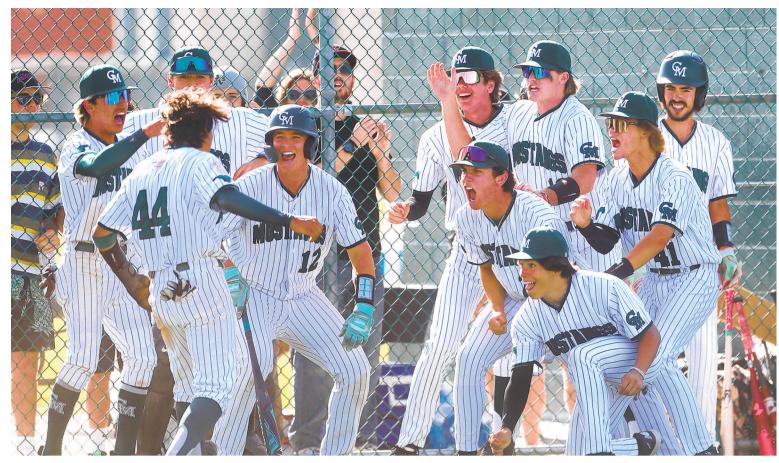

Costa Mesa (23-6) will play at San Juan Hills in the second round on Tuesday.

The Mustangs were flummoxed for much of Thursday's game against Zeke Isaak Cortez, the ace senior left-handed pitcher for Kaiser (17-10).

"He's the kind of left-hander you see in the playoffs," Kiefer said. "He was sharp."

The visitors took a 3-0 lead in the top of the fourth inning with Aldo Garcia providing the big hit, fisting a single into shallow left field to score a pair of runs.

Costa Mesa brought in junior Will Morales, who blanked Kaiser for 2 1/3 innings and earned the win. The Mustangs rallied in the bottom of the sixth.

COSTA MESA'S Omar Gutierrez (44) is mobbed by teammates after scoring a run to tie the game against Kaiser on Thursday.

Mateo Navarro and Owen Dever led off with back-to-back singles. Cortez got an infield pop up and a strikeout, but Costa Mesa wasn't done. The No. 9 hitter, Omar Gutierrez, walked to load the bases and flip the lineup.

Wylan Rottschafer was hit by a pitch, forcing in a run. Comte followed with a first-pitch single up the middle, driving in two and tying the score.

"I saw that there was a big hole in the middle," Comte said. "That's basically my attack every time, try to just kill the pitcher with hitting it right back to him. I guess I hit it just well enough."

Mesa senior Will Clark had a good at-bat, fouling off a few pitches before depositing a single to right to score two more runs. Cortez was pulled at 109 pitches, but not before the Mustangs had surged into the lead.

"We just played our game," Clark said. "We've had some tougher opponents this year, and that's really helped us in these close games. We're able to chip away and come back. It feels great."

Rottschafer worked around a one-out infield single in the seventh inning to earn the save.

Navarro and Dever both had a pair of hits for the winners, and Grady Jackson also had a single. Senior catcher Jack Shafer was stout behind the plate, throwing out a pair of runners at second base.

It all added up to a feel-good win for the Mustangs, who will now try to advance past the second round of CIF for the first time in the seniors' tenure.
