When Taylor Hawkins died earlier this year, Laguna Beach residents — as well as communities near and far — sought ways to remember the homegrown rock star.

On Thursday evening, a few dozen people gathered around the performance stage at the Promenade on Forest Avenue, where a mural honoring the life of a hometown hero was introduced.

"There Goes My Hero" is the name of the piece, a work of art created by Ryan Callisto that displays the likeness of Hawkins surrounded by vibrant colors. Hawkins,

Costa Mesa looks to hire 11 full-time jailers

Council to consider custody officers for police department's jail after contractor failed to find enough personnel. BY SARA CARDINE

Members of the Costa Mesa City Council will be asked Tuesday to consider spending $1.12 million to hire 11 full-time custody officers to staff the police department's jail, after a thirdparty contractor failed to find adequate personnel.

The city in May terminated its contact with G4S Secure Solutions and Allied Universal, the company that acquired it in 2021, which had provided jail services for the Costa Mesa Police Department since 2013.

Officials maintained a "mass resignation" had left only two jailers at the facility, which could be forced to close unless a temporary staffing arrangement could be made and suggested possibly negotiating with the city of Huntington Beach for temporary services.

Since then, seven temporary part-time custody officers have been hired to work in the jail, according to a staff report that proposed hiring 10 full-time officers as well as one custody supervisor. The cost of the new positions is estimated at $1,120,717, which is $175,215 more than the cost of the contract the city maintained with Allied Universal.

the late drummer of the Foo Fighters and a member of the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame, grew up in Laguna Beach.

"The thing I wanted to do was show through happy colors and positive energy, this little, tiny town had a gigantic person that touched the entire world, and most people love that guy," Callisto said. "I thought I could do my little part to raise him up a little bit more, if I could, in memory for his town, for the place he grew up and graduated from, and [for] his family and friends. I just feel lucky that I got to be the guy to lift him up." Callisto delivered those remarks at a

Senior citizens center hosts Newport Beach City Council candidates forum

BY SUSAN HOFFMAN

About 200 people turned out Friday morning in Corona del Mar for a candidates forum focusing on the Newport Beach City Council election coming up Nov. 8.

Hosting the event was Friends of OASIS, as part of the organization's general monthly membership meeting at the OASIS senior center. The moderators were members of the organization's board of directors, Mike Zimmerman and Walt Howald.

Councilwoman Joy Brenner, who is seeking reelection in District 6 representing Corona del Mar, responded to questions about improving the lives of seniors in Newport Beach and candidates' familiarity with OASIS programs.

"I want to see the senior population more happy," said Brenner, who raised the issue of a need for an aquatic center. "I live one block away and appreciate and support the center ... I have taken classes [here]."

Candidate Jim Mosher, who is running in District 3 representing the upper Newport Bay, revealed his sense of humor, saying, "As the most senior candidate, the benefits to losing are that I'd have more time to enjoy membership here."

The candidates were asked their priorities, should they be elected or reelected to the City Council.

Erik Weigand, who like Mosher is running in District 3, said public safety is his No. 1 priority and a lot of things are intertwined with public safety.

Candidate Tom Miller is seeking to represent District 1, which encompasses the Balboa peninsula and west Newport. He echoed Weigand's sentiments and added he'd like to see an increase in personnel at the police department to enhance public safety.

Joe Stapleton, also running in District 1, said his top priority is "to reduce homeless-

Judge nixes rebuttal's claim H.B. 'illegally' hired private lawyer

BY ERIC LICAS

A judge ruled Friday that language in an argument against a measure on the ballot in the Nov. 8 election claiming Huntington Beach officials "illegally" hired a private lawyer to audit the city attorney's office was false and must be removed from information distributed to voters.

Measure N is a proposal to add language to current statutes that would define Huntington Beach's elected city attorney as an employee of the city. It would also explicitly authorize the City Council to hire an independent attorney to handle matters that might pose a conflict of interest.

That's standard practice in practically every other city in Southern California, whether the head of their legal departments are elected or appointed, Councilman Dan Kalmick, a supporter of Measure N, said during a brief interview Friday.

"The item itself is a restatement of existing law," Kalmick

Allens open waterfront home for UCI MIND cocktail reception

A sultry summer evening on the Newport Bayfront welcomed about 70 guests converging in support of UCI MIND, an institute for research and treatment of memory impairments and neurological disorders in association with UC Irvine.

The dedicated Harriet Harris of Newport Beach in conjunction with an organization known as the Living Large Legacy hosted the cocktail reception with the generous support of Kiersten and Bruce Allen (the former president and general manager of the Washington Commanders) who opened their waterfront residence for the gathering with serious

"The reception is a way to engage our community on the tsunami that is on the horizon of Alzheimer's and dementia," said Cherry Justice with UCI MIND.

In the crowd were many leading doctors and research scientists dedicated to the study of cognitive impairments. The Allens welcomed UCI Dean Frank LaFerla joining Josh Grill, director of UCI MIND in addressing the gathering on the terrace of the Allen property on matters concerning the latest research and development in clinical trails being conducted through UCI MIND programs.

The institute is home to one of 32 Alzheimer's Disease Research Centers funded by the National Institute on Aging. It is also one of 10 California Alzheimer's Disease centers funded by the California Department of Public Health. HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL H.B. football off to first 3-0 start since 2006

BY MATT SZABO

LONG BEACH - AJ Vandermade backflipped into postgame huddle the Thursday night, then did another backflip afterward for effect as a teammate recorded on his phone.

"It's a reward," the Huntington Beach High senior receiver/safety explained. "Something to get the team going after a big win, get us hyped."

Coach Brett Brown just smiled when asked about Vandermade's athletics.

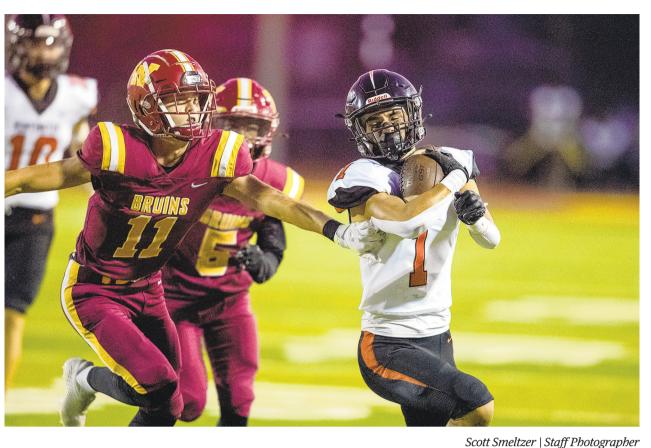

"I don't know how somebody can have that much energy," he said. "But he does.

Winning can energize anyone, and the Oilers now find themselves in a position they haven't been in since some of the players on the team were born.

Huntington Beach routed Long Beach Wilson 43-7 on the road Thursday night. The Oilers are off to their first 3-0 start since 2006.

quarterback Senior Daunte Bell threw three touchdown passes, two to Vandermade and one to Musashi Ray. Junior running back Jack Geracitano ran hard all night, finishing with 22 carries for 153 yards and a touchdown.

The Oilers actually got production from all three of their quarterbacks. Senior Vaughn Popp threw a screen touchdown pass in the fourth quarter to Tyler Young, and then senior Andrew Verdone capped the scoring late with a 42-yard scramble for a score.

"We knew what we were going against, knew it was going to be good competition," said Vandermade, who now has four receiving touchdowns this season. "It was a good chance to go 3-0 this week. Really [we have] a good chance to go 5-0 on the preseason. We're going to stay locked in, go week by week, get the job done and get our roles straight."

The Oilers led Wilson (0-2), coached by former Corona del Mar head man Scott Meyer, by two touchdowns at halftime. But they left points on the table in the first half with three turnovers — a muffed punt and an interception and fumble, both in the red zone.

Huntington Beach came out with a power offense to start the third quarter, running the ball 11 straight times, 10 of those by Geracitano. The 10th carry found the end zone from 5 yards out, giving the visitors a 21-0 advantage.

"We wanted to see if we were physical enough to just run the ball a little bit," Brown said. "We knew that if we could come out in the third quarter and dominate the line of scrimmage a little bit, it would be good for the game."

Vandermade, who plays safety on defense, then provided a standout play on the Bruins' first drive of the second half. Cameron Chapman burst up the middle and seemed to be gone on a 79-yard touchdown run.

But Vandermade, fast charging, caught up to Chapman and poked the ball free at the 2-yard-line before recovering it. It was his second strip fumble of the season.

"He's one of the fastest kids I've coached, and that effort to not give up was unbelievable," Brown said. "Pure heart.'

Wilson, which was shut out last week against Redondo Union, managed to get on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter Friday after a scramble 47-yard by quarterback Ian Bond.

Senior defensive tackle Dylan Weber contributed 2¹⁄₂ quarterback sacks for the winners, also recovering a fumble. He said the Oilers expect to be ready to go when they host El Toro (0-3) next Thursday night.

Last year, the Oilers couldn't hold onto a fourthquarter lead and lost on the road to the Chargers.

"The scoreboard says they only scored seven, but we have a lot of things to patch up and fix if we're going to defeat the teams in front of us," Weber said of the team's defensive effort against Wilson. "We're not focusing on Wilson, El Toro, none of the teams in front of us. It's just about us, and how we play."

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership o the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (844) 477-7869 or visit this Internet Web site WWW.STOXPOSTING.COM, using the file number assigned to this case 101621-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 101621-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. dedication ceremony for his 12-foot-by-12-foot artwork. He then cut a ceremonial ribbon. Kelly Fitzgerald became the first to perform on the redecorated stage following the ceremony.

The project cost $5,000, Laguna Beach Cultural Arts Manager Sian Poeschl said. Funding for the mural came from the lodging establishments and the city of Laguna Beach. The mural is expected to be on exhibit for a year, depending on its condition, Poeschl added.

Community members and music lovers alike descended upon Aliso Beach to take part in a drum circle following Hawkins' death in March. Hawkins had been known to play local shows even after achieving stardom. "When Taylor Hawkins passed away, a lot of people in the community asked me what could we do for Taylor Hawkins," Mayor Sue Kempf said. "So many people loved Taylor Hawkins, not only his music, but as a person. I'm so glad and happy to see such a beautiful piece of work. "... Here we have a performance deck, and it's so wonderful that people, when they perform, they can look and see Taylor anytime they want."
