Laguna Beach seeks data on ADUs

Officials are hoping to put a dent in the city's affordable housing stock by getting rent estimates from ADU owners.

BY ANDREW TURNER

Laguna Beach has begun seeking rent estimates from property owners with accessory dwelling units in the hopes that the data will show the city is closer to meeting its need for affordable housing stock.

The Regional Housing Needs Assessment, established by the Southern California Assn. of Governments, has called on the city to plan for 394 housing units including 277 units for those with moderate to very low income by the end of the sixth cycle, which began in 2021 and concludes in 2029.

"Our housing element assumed that part of RHNA count, especially affordable units, would come from ADUs," Jennifer Savage, the city's housing program coordinator, said in giving an update to the City Council on Oct. 22. "What we found over the last two years in our annual progress

Nearly 25 years later, Nichols has certainly not let that injury stop her from experiencing the thrill of competition.

She's a five-time Paralympian and three-time gold medalist, competing in wheelchair basketball and alpine skiing. Now 41, the New Mexico native has settled in as an adaptive surfer in a big way. Last year, she scored the first-ever perfect "10" ride in ISA para surfing history at the World Championships in Huntington Beach a wave that was also her first barrel in the ocean.

"Honestly, it was absolutely magic," she said in an email interview. "It just happened to be my grandma's birthday and the first heat for the women's wave ski category that I surf in. We went out at 8 a.m. and the surf was perfect ... and when that wave came to me, I didn't hesitate. And I dropped in and when I thought it was gonna close out, I just kind of ducked down under the barrel and the entire international world of adaptive surfing was on the beach cheering me on!"

One sea lion that came ashore in Newport Beach and another in Huntington Beach this month showed signs of brain damage from exposure to toxins released by algae blooms and had to be euthanized, an official with the wildlife center that had been caring for them said Thursday.

Georgia was an adult female sea lion that showed up at China Cove Beach, Newport Beach police said in a Facebook Post Tuesday. She was disoriented, blinded and had taken refuge underneath a nearby house, the Pacific Marine Mammal Center's Vice President of Conservation Medicine and Science, Alisa Deming, told the Daily Pilot in a phone interview Thursday. But she appeared to be a "candidate for rehabilitation" at the time she was taken from the beach and brought to the Marine Mammal Center, police said in their post.

"Georgia was actually in pretty good body condition," Deming said. "But she was showing some pretty abnormal behaviors on the beach that are consistent with what we call postictal activity. That's how they act abnormally after a seizure."

Another adult female named "Bowman" by volunteers was found stranded at Bolsa Chica State Beach on Oct. 12, Deming said. She was dazed, confused and experiencing seizures that would caused her entire body to quake.

Bowman and Georgia were treated for acute domoic acid poisoning. The chemical is a byproduct of the algae pseudonitzschia australis.

Costa Mesa ends run up to CIF quarterfinals

BY SCOTT FRENCH

Costa Mesa pulled out two seesaw battles to overcome an early deficit in a CIF Southern Section girls' volleyball quarterfinal showdown, then found itself in a fight to survive without its most vital contributor.

It was a task too tall for the Mustangs, who dropped Wednesday evening's five-set thriller to Oak Hills, watching a fifth-set lead disappear once senior outside hitter Aubrey Spallone was forced to the sidelines.

The visiting Bulldogs, from the Victor Valley, took advantage, going on a 13-2 run to complete a 25-22, 23-25, 23-25, 25-16, 15-8 victory and advance to a Division 6 semifinal Saturday at home against top-seeded South Pasadena.

Spallone aggravated a knee injury, suffered in the playoff opener for Costa Mesa (20-12), on the last play of the fourth set. She received treatment, at first on the court, then limped uneasily into position for the decisive set. The Mustangs took a 6-2 lead, behind Anusuya Guragain's sixth and seventh aces, and Spallone didn't return from a timeout by Oak Hills (16-7).

The fifth-seeded Bulldogs, powered in the set by five of Sacramento State-bound pin hitter Keonahi'ilani Solaita's 19 kills scored the next six points, four of the following five, and then the final three, and Costa Mesa's season was over.

"I popped my knee out in the first round of CIF, so it's been hurting, and that was just, like, it's last show," said Spallone, who returned for her turn to serve near the end but struggled to move. "That was hard [to not be able to be out there]. That was hard. I think that was the worst."

It was an unfortunate finish to a tight clash in which the Mustangs nearly made up an early deficit in the first set, scored the final three points in the second — on kills by Spallone and Lucca Miller and a Guragain ace — and, from Oak Hills errors, the last two in the third, then succumbed to three big Bulldogs runs in the fourth.

"It hurt to have lost her, but I'm still proud of how the girls performed ...," first-year Costa Mesa head coach Jacob Lee said. "Normally, I would be super upset [to lose at this stage], but the way we performed all season, I can't be mad at how things ended. We beat every expectation."

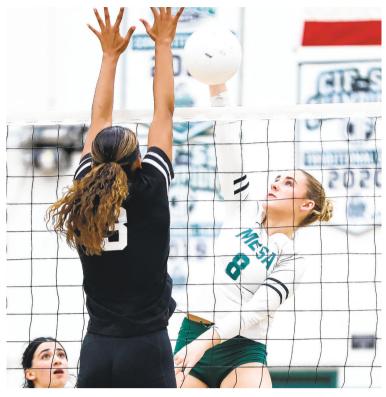

Spallone, with limited movement from the start, delivered eight kills, two blocks and two aces.

"I couldn't hit. The whole game, my hitting was off," she said. "That was the missing piece."

Costa Mesa served 18 aces court leader Isabel Ortega-Davidson contributed four, to go with 11 kills and 19 assists; Gracie Glass had three; and Brooke Mehanna a pair, along with 15 assists — but made 17 service errors, eight of them in the opening set. Seven misses on 11 serves helped Oak Hills turn a three-point deficit into a five-point lead.

The Bulldogs were more efficient in their serve-and-pass game — "That's what volleyball boils down to," Lee said — and feasted on Solaita's dominance all over the court, middle blocker Jaliyah Reese's success (six kills, two blocks) over the final three and a half sets, and eight aces (three by Savannah Rivera).

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL Marina CIF hopes defeated in quarterfinals at Cypress

BY ANDREW TURNER

CYPRESS — Marina girls' volleyball coach Ryan Parker took his time following a season-ending defeat on Wednesday night, making sure no stone was left unturned as he attempted to put a bow on the campaign.

From the coaches down to the players, the group emerged from the huddle feeling proud of what it had accomplished, leaving little to chance regarding an opportunity to make a run this fall.

Marina fell to host Cypress 25-21, 25-20, 24-26, 25-14 in the quarterfinals of the CIF Southern Section Division 3 playoffs, a round further than it advanced in the same division the year before with a roster still growing in experience.

"We start three freshmen and three sophomores," said Parker, who was an assistant to Jake Nuneviller when the Vikings advanced to the Division 5 final as an at-large qualifier in 2022. "A big focus for us has been

"These girls, they walk in completely confident and unafraid. That's been the biggest thing is they go out and they plan on coming back to win at Marina."

Sophomore outside hitter Korynn Mayo had 16 kills and five service aces to lead Marina (18-14), which earned an automatic berth as the fourth-place team in the seven-team Sunset League.

Junior opposite Addison Brown had nine kills and two block assists, and sophomore outside hitter Brooklyn Enriquez provided nine kills and two aces. Senior opposite Reese Potter added seven kills, and junior when trying to break in a glove for Little League.

"We used to use rubber bands, but we didn't have enough," he recounted to the Daily Pilot in 2023. "So Dad asked me to find a different way."

Together, the trio developed a latex-free thermoplastic elastomer band that transforms stiff gloves into pliable, play-ready pieces practically overnight. They first circulated wraps throughout the family's social network and soon after began passing them out to Major League baseball players on social media posts that went viral.

The Batarses appeared before a panel of investor "sharks," who became enchanted with the origin story and concept. Gavin is CEO and pitchman for the company, while his father handles marketing and business development and sister Morgan oversees operations.

"We had a watch party with 100 people — it was tons of fun," said Jon Batarse, an executive pastor at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Newport Beach who also runs his own marketing business.

"But, at the same time, orders were rolling in. Gavin and Morgan wanted to stay up past midnight, printing up labels and packaging everything [for delivery].

In a bit of TV magic, the family's "Shark Tank" appearance immediately increased Glove Wrap's profile, as calls came in from all over the nation. Today, with the help of sharks Cuban and Ruben, the business has increased tenfold, Jon Batarse said Thursday.

Today, Glove Wrap can be found on the shelves of more than 200 retail locations, including 165 Dick's Sporting Goods stores and nearly 40 Arizona-based Scheels superstores. While the family continues to fill orders, Gavin sends his investors monthly video updates.

"They've been actively involved ever since, which has been fun," Jon Batarse said of Dallas Mavericks minority owner Cuban and internet entrepreneur Rubin, chief executive and founder of global sports platform Fanatics.

the This summer, Batarses inked a deal making the product the official glove wrap of Major League Baseball. The family in July traveled to All-Star Week in Dallas, where a team from "Shark Tank" filmed them for tonight's retrospective.

These days, Glove Wrap's collective social media reach is impressive. The family's videos have been viewed more than 100 million times, and the product has amassed 400,000 followers and continues to grow.

But Jon Batarse says all the fanfare hasn't fazed Gavin and Morgan, who continue to work diligently to keep the dream going.

"We're still normal people from North Tustin, and this has all been such a blessing," he said.

next week to defend her Women's Sit division title at the 2024 International Surfing Assn. World Para Surfing Championship, which kicks off with an opening ceremony Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at Pier Plaza. Competition starts Monday on the south side of the Huntington Beach Pier.

The event runs all week, up to the finals day and a closing ceremony on Nov. 9.

There will 151 athletes competing, representing 25 national teams. Team France, the current world champion, seeks to defend its title.

Nichols will be one of a few multiple gold medalists in the water, along with Davi Teixeira of Brazil, San Diego resident Sarah Bettencourt, Mark "Mono" Stewart and Matt Formston of Australia and Marta Paço of Portugal.

Each athlete is grouped into one of nine classifications depending on his or her physical conditions, including three levels of stand, two of prone and vision impairment, as well as kneel and sit.

This will be the second year the competition is held in Surf City, which will be hosting its ninth major ISA event overall. The event is presented by Visit Huntington Beach.

"I feel really excited to come back to Huntington this year, especially knowing how great last year's experience was for the whole of the Adaptive community," Nichols said. "Huntington Beach is a great venue for us for a lot of reasons, it's accessible and provides a great wave given the swell but almost equally as important is how warmly we were welcomed by the greater community of Huntington Beach. I also feel a little bit nervous to come back after my great showing last year, wondering if it can get any better?"

"The more eyes we can get on our sport equals more coverage and support for our sport, which then leads to more support for athletes to do what they love the most," Nichols said.

She encourages spectators to come down to the beach and watch, though a live webcast will also be streamed at isasurf.org.

TO: Shane Alarcon, the natural father of the above-referenced child; the paternal grandparents of the minor child; and all other persons who are or may be concerned:

You are hereby notified that a Motion has been filed in the above named Court by Maria C. Davies, Assistant District Attorney, alleging that said child is a Child in Need of Care as defined by K.S.A. 38-2202, alleging that the natural parents are unfit by reason of conduct or condition which renders the parents unable to care properly for a child and the conduct or condition is unlikely to change in the foreseeable future; and requesting the Court to permanently deprive their parental rights in and to said children, and to further place said children for adoption pursuant to K.S.A. 38-2269 or, in the alternative, appoint a permanent custodian for said child.

The mother is Michelle Zander.

The father of Victoria Alarcon is Shane Alarcon and his whereabouts are currently unknown

The hearing will determine why said parents should be permanently deprived of their parental rights and the right to permanent custody; and that the care, custody and guardianship of the person and estate of said children be committed to the Kansas Secretary of the Department for Children and Families. Or, in the alternative, the hearing will determine why said parents should be rendered unfit; and that the care, and custody of the person and estate of said children be committed to the Kansas Secretary of the Department for Children and Families, with the appointment of a permanent custodian.

You are required to appear before this Court at 9:00 a.m. on the 15th day of November, 2024 in the Juvenile Section of the District Court of Johnson County, Kansas, City of Olathe, Division 10 or prior to that time file your written response to the pleading with the Clerk of the Court. If, after a child has been adjudged to a Child In Need of Care, the Court finds a parent or parents to be unfit, the court may be petitioned to make an Order permanently terminating the parent's or parents' parental rights.

Richard Klein, an attorney, has been appointed as Guardian Ad Litem for said child. Each parent or other legal custodian of the child has the right to appear and be heard personally either with or without an attorney. Lexi Nguyen, an attorney, has been appointed as attorney to represent the natural father of the minor child. Brian Paden, an attorney, has been appointed as attorney to represent the natural mother of the minor child. Each parent has the right to appear and be heard in this Court. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. All checks payable to Prestige Default Services, LLC.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (949) 776-4697 or visit this Internet Website https://prestigepostandpub.com, using the file number assigned to this case 23-8866. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (949) 776-4697, or visit this internet website https://prestigepostandpub.com, using the file number assigned to this case 23-8866 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL Laguna beats Dana Hills in homecoming comeback

BY SCOTT FRENCH

Laguna Beach found its fire following a dismal first half in its showdown game Friday night with unbeaten Dana Hills, quickly took command, then watched things turn crazy.

For Jackson Kollock, no big deal.

Minnesota-bound The quarterback, limited all season by arm and leg injuries, put on a display after the break, completing 11 of 12 passes for 146 yards and three touchdowns — the final throw a fourth-down, sideline-screen to Jack Hooper for the decisive points with 20 seconds to play — to lift the Breakers to a 35-32 homecoming triumph that positioned them for a share of the first Foxtrot League title.

Kollock, who was three of 10 in the first half and finished with 218 yards, connected with Brady Stringham and then Hooper for touchdowns on successive offensive plays for a 21-14 lead and immense momentum with two and a half minutes left in the third quarter.

It was a battle after that, with lead changes on every possession, four in all in the final quarter, with big defensive plays on two extrapoint tries shifting the narrative and ultimately deciding the outcome.

"Here's the best thing about Laguna kids," Laguna Beach coach John Shanahan said. "They never get too high, they never get too low, they're always cool, they handle pressure so well, and that's why I love to go to battle with them."

A victory next week at home against Orange would give Laguna Beach (8-1, 3-1 in the Foxtrot League) its fourth league title in five years — the first three in the Pac 4 League and Dana Hills (8-1, 3-1) can secure a share at home against Northwood.

All-CIF Kollock, an Southern Section selection last year, hasn't been physically capable of matching his first two years at Laguna Beach, when he threw for 5,374 yards and 73 touchdowns and won the school's first section championship in 76 years, but he was unstoppable in the season's most vital moments.

He found Stringham in the end zone from the 22 on third-and-16 to pull the Breakers even at 14 — Dana Hills had scored on two long first-half drives sandwiched around Charlie Hunt's 76-yard kickoff return — then hit Hooper with a 46-yard bomb for the lead after the defense's lone three-and-out.

The visiting Dolphins rallied twice to go ahead, and Kollock answered both. He first hit Stringham for 18 yards into Dana Hills territory en route to his 3-yard touchdown run and a 27-26 advantage midway through the fourth quarter, then engineered a five-minute, 69yard march for the winning points.

Kollock, on fourth-and-4, threw to the right sideline, and Hooper sprinted the 11 yards, breaking a tackle at the 5-yard line, to provide the lead. They connected again on the two-point conversion, the only among four to succeed down the stretch.

"We knew we had it." Kollock said. "I trusted our guys, they trusted me, and [I just needed to] get the ball into our playmakers' hands. Let them do the rest of the work."

Dana Hills had retaken the lead four minutes into the fourth quarter, finishing an 18-play, 88-yard drive with four Radley Geiss runs, the last for 1 yard, then using a long pass to set up a 1yard Vanden Dugger toss to

Chuck Eckl after a successful onside kick. Laguna Beach made big plays after each, a blocked extra point preserving a small lead, then Stringham's two-point attempt interception keeping the deficit at five points. The Breakers were ahead

a minute and a half later and the Dolphins a minute after that — Dugger completing three long passes, the last a 29-yard throw to James Leicester — and then the final heroics. It wasn't over until Dugger's 43-yard Hail Mary was batted down near the goal line as the clock ran out.

"Jackson, he's a warrior," Shanahan said. "He's got a hurt ankle, a hurt knee, a hurt shoulder, but he just kept fighting and fighting. I'm unbelievably proud of him.'

When a bloom of the algae happens, the toxin it makes can accumulate in fish that sea lions and other marine mammals eat, leading to brain and heart damage. Current research suggests chronic exposure can alter sea lions' personalities and cause them to lose the ability to navigate the ocean, Deming said.

Massive, lingering red tides that significantly damaged the local sea lion population have shown up each year since 2021. In the '90s, those types harmful algae blooms might have appeared along California's coast every three to five years, Deming said.

"We unfortunately have become fairly savvy trying to treat these domoic acid cases because the blooms have been becoming more frequent," Deming said.

If testing confirms that the the sea lions found stranded in Huntington Beach and Newport Beach this month were suffering from domoic acid poisoning, they'll be among as many as 10 the Pacific Marine Mammal Center has treated for the condition since the start of the summer, Deming said.

After receiving medication, Bowman and Georgia were placed under observation for several days. Bowman continued to have seizures despite her treatments.

Georgia also remained epileptic and exhibited a number of behavioral abnormalities, including an absence of the typical wariness a wild sea lion would exhibit toward humans, Deming said. That suggests some form of neurological damage. And if she were released, the possibility of her coming into contact with humans and doing something unpredictable could have resulted in a public safety risk.

It was unlikely that Bowman and Georgia would have been able to survive on their own in the wild, given their condition. So staff at the marine mammal center decided to humanely euthanize them, Deming said Thursday.

Their remains will be closely examined by scientists conducting a longterm study of the effects of domoic acid on wildlife. As part of that effort, researchers at Veterinary Specialty Hospital - North County in San Marcos have performed MRI scans on the brains of about 30 sea lions, including Georgia.

"It is really hard, but being able to do the research and kind of tell her story after her death is helpful," Deming said. "We're supported by an army of volunteers that come and take care of these animals. So they're also kind of getting the brunt of the emotional stress of it all. It helps them too, to know there's more being done."

LAGUNA BEACH must allow for 277 new housing units for people with moderate to very low income by 2029. To help assess its progress toward that goal, city officials are asking property owners with ADUs the rent they will be charging.

reports is that we have not been able to count any of the ADUs as affordable, and the reason for that is we don't have evidence.

"This is a form that other cities have used. It is voluntary. It's not required, but it does ask applicants to estimate the amount of rent that they would be charging on their ADU. We can then collect that over time, and for each annual progress report, evaluate that rent level, see if it qualifies as affordable, even if it is not deed-restricted as an affordable unit, and then count that towards our non-deed-restricted affordable housing units under RHNA.' The rental estimate form, which was posted in August, inquires as to the intended use of an accessory dwelling unit, as well as how many occupants it will have, if cash rent will be collected, and who will be responsible for paying for utilities. An additional 44 accessory dwelling units were completed in the city between January and Aug. 21, according to a staff report. The City Council adopted an ordinance strengthening protections for renters in March. It requires residential property owners to provide notice to the city in the event of a no-fault eviction. "The state law requires a notification that specifies when you can evict someone, when you can't, and all the content requirements," Savage said. "The city's ordinance specifically requires in the cases of substantial remodel or demolition that a property owner has to submit a copy of that notice to the city." City officials said that 22 property owners and nine tenants had contacted city staff about the ordinance since April. Savage said only one notice of eviction had been posted to the city website. Tenants can check the city website for notification of an applicable eviction in compliance with local regulations, and if none is found, it can be used as evidence for an unlawful detainer, Savage added. "Those property owners and tenants that have reached out to city staff has allowed us to educate property owners and tenants on what's required and what their rights are, thereby making sure that everyone's following the state regulations," Savage said. As for implementation plans for the remainder of the year, Mayor Pro Tem Alex Rounaghi requested that city staff monitor existing affordable housing sites for compliance. Some of the existing affordable housing in the city includes the 26unit Alice Court on Glenneyre Street and the 24-unit Hagan Place on 3rd Street. "It's very hard to add more affordable housing units, but the easiest thing that we can do is make sure that at least the affordable housing units that are legally required to be affordable are doing just that."
