PICTURE BOOKS: Meet our Emcee, Robin Preiss Glasser, "Fancy Nancy" artist 10:30 a.m. at The Reading Stage! See and hear stories presented by:

	Time Who's reading?	Which book?	What's the book about?
	10:45 a.m. Shawn Harris	"Have You Ever Seen a Flower"	A child experiences a flower by seeing its colors, smelling its fragrance, and imagining the tiny world within it.
	11:30 a.m. Melissa de la Cruz	"Doña Esmeralda Who Ate Everything" Illustrated by Primo Gallanosa	Meet Doña Esmeralda, a tiny old lady with a big bouffant hairdo, who's so hungry she eats all the food children won't eat. Will she ever stop?
	12:15 p.m. Julianna Anthony * Bilingual reading: En español e inglés	"Entre Amigos: Between Friends" Co-written by Elena Gaona Illustrated by Ely Ely	How can you spot a good friend? How can you be a good friend? How can good friends make the world a better place?
	1:00 p.m. David Bowles * Bilingual reading: En español e inglés	"My Two Border Towns" "Mis dos pueblos fronterizos" Illustrated by Erika Meza	Join a little boy and his father, as they travel by truck between two towns, one in the US and one in Mexico. They run errands, visit with family and friends on both sides, plus refugees from the Caribbean and Central America, stuck between two countries.
	1:45 p.m. Benson Shum	"Anju the Great Kaiju"	The kaiju is a fierce monster with the power to wreak horrendous destruction. But what if one is born with kindness plus flower powers?
	2:30 p.m. Reggie Brown	"Kicks" Written by Van G. Garrett	Have you ever saved or begged for a new pair of sneakers: Jordan's or LeBron's? This story is for everyone that has ever been in love with a new pair of sneakers.
	3:15 p.m. Georgeanne Irvine and Carrie Hasler	"Saving Moka" "Koala Crossing" Illustrated by Barbara Ball	Mahmi the koala and her joey Garbaa lose their beloved home, high in Australia's eucalyptus trees when a new road is bulldozed through their forest.

ATTENTION PARENTS & TEACHERS:

Many books featured at the Festival of Books are recommended on STEM and STEAM lists.

After the Festival of Books concludes, all presentations will be available for viewing here.
